The International Conference the Corona Pandemic and the World: a Reading of Reality and a Vision for the Future

The Problematic

The world has experienced a pandemic that has exceeded all its capabilities and overstepped all its limits. The current pandemic has changed the world social laws including the world customs, traditions, and rituals. Furthermore, the hidden was exposed, all agendas were mixed, and the whole world was on high alert during this exceptional period. This pandemic has put the world in front of a global challenge which affected all life aspects, and through which the world has discovered the extent of its weakness and helplessness, and stood in shock in front of the deadly Corona virus which became the world first enemy.

For the first time in the human history, the world with all its components united to confront the Corona virus (Covid 19). As everyone realized the limited individual efforts to contain the situation, a kind of solidarity has appeared and which was clear through conferences and meetings that were held between countries and the aid granted by some countries whether being affected. Interestingly, many governments have been shaken to the point that borders were closed, economies were paralyzed, religious institutions were closed in front of their visitors, and projects and plans were disrupted. In addition to all this, health and psychological conditions were deteriorated within societies; all universities, schools and education centers were closed, that is why conferences were held to discuss losses and solutions of the current crisis. The world stood puzzling in front of the new situation; many interpretations about this epidemic were made. Despite the fact that human history has witnessed several epidemics, this epidemic is the most dangerous and fiercest one; therefore, laboratories were opened to researchers in order to find the necessary mechanisms to confront the crisis and its challenges. It can be said that this epidemic has imposed its rules, customs, and laws related to social distancing, home quarantine, and other exceptional and preventive treatment protocols as a means to combat it.

Amid this situation, the need to conduct scientific conferences and seminars for scholars and researchers, each in his field, to study the situation in all its aspects and try to reach some plans and strategies through which decision-makers can make the right decisions. Thus, this conference went on to open discussions in all fields about the Corona pandemic.
